This is some English text. It is a whole paragraph so we can see the spacing of the document. In order to take up a paragraph, I will repeat this sentence. Here is a second paragraph. However, I would like to type in Russian. Luckily, my font is set to Hoefler Text, which has support for Cyrillic. И я могу сейчас писать по-русски хорошо. Now I'm back to English. But wait, my friend sent me a letter in Chinese, where he tells me about his likes and dislikes. Hoefler can't handle Chinese, so I need to change the font to let you know what he writes:

我很喜欢吃小孩子。

I'm not letting this friend near my younger siblings!

I think this is enough to show how neat Scrivener can be! I'm in love! Sadly, I didn't feel like putting in the extra effort of getting Hebrew to print correctly. That's the next step!
